NEW ASBESTOS MINE IN EDEN.

Millions of Tons Raw Material in Sight

The latest industrial development in Vermont is the opening of the new as-bestos mine at Stevens Mills, in Eden.

on Nov. 21. The Abestos Company of America already has spent $600,000 in opening the mine and equipping the plant, and it is planned to spend another half-million dollars during the next year. There are several million tons of raw material in sight, it is said. The fibre is neither the long nor the short variety, but is of the disseminated or slip type. Thirty men are now employed and until Jan. I only samples will be produced. The plans call for the production of 15 tons of the finished product daily. About 120 men will be employed after Feb. 1, and it is hoped that 50 tons daily will be the output during the spring and summer. Hydro-electric power will be used. The finished prod-uct will be conveyed to the railroad station at Hyde Park in light automobile trucks equipped with specially con-structed trailers.

The ashestos deposits in the United States are few, and if this mine proves the success that is anticipated, Ver-mont may soon take the lead in ashes-tos production, as there are other deposits in the vicinity. These deposits are supposed to be a part of the Blake lake vein of Canada, which produces so much of the asbestos used at the Large deposits of tale have been discovered at Montgomery Center. Already Vermont produces more tale than any other state, and there are said to be many tale deposits as yet unworked. With an abundant of marble, granite, slate and tale and the pos sibility of large asbestos developments, the mineral industries should flourish.

The asbestos mines are not far away,

and in previous years soapstone quarries were worked in the neighboring Rutland's first coasting accident this season happened Friday afternoon when a sled containing five boys collided with a Ford automobile on what is known as the West street hill. None of the boys was seriously hurt, although two of them were taken to the hospital for examination and then taken home. No blame is attached to the owner and driver of the automobile, William R. Baird of Pittaford, who ditched his car in an effort to avoid the collision. It is supposed the boy who was steering the sled became confused when he saw the approaching machine. It struck the rear wheel, encased in chains. Sliding on that hill has been forbidding by the police as traffic is heavy in that vicinity.

Rewport, Dec. 16. After being on two hours and 15 minutes the jury in the case of state against C. R. Moore of Newport charged with having in his possession illegally 48 quarts of alcohol on Nevember 30th when federal officers searched his shop, failed to reach an agreement and was charged by Judge W. M. Wright in Orleans county court. The case had attracted considerable attention.

The case was given to the jury at 4:55 Wednesday afternoon and at 5:45 they came in and reported a disagreement. Judge Wright sent the jury back for further deliberation but at 6:30 as no signs of a verdict were evident less the jury was discharged. State's Attorney Farman appeared for the state and Col. C. S. Emery for Mr. Moore.

The November butter scoring was held in the dairy laboratory, University of Vermont, on Tuesday, Nov. 29. This was the first day of the fourday creamerymen's conference which was conducted as one of the regular winter short courses in dairying. This conference was attended by more than 50 creamerymen from all sections of the state, who took much interest in the discussions of the subjects on the program and who expressed themselves as more than pleased with the course. Many requests were made for a similar course next year.

Ninteen samples of butter were entered for the scoring. The judges were Dr. E. S. Guthrie of Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y., A. B. Loring of the U. S. bureau of markets, Boston, V. R. Jones of the state department of agri-

U. S. bureau of markets, Boston, V. R. Jones of the state department of agriculture and Profersor H. B. Ellenberger of the state agricultural college. Professor Guthrie who judged butter at one of our scorings three years ago expressed himself as much pleased with the improvement made since them as evidenced particularly by more uniformity and less undesirable flavors but he criticized the butter as rather open and leaky as compared to the western butter which is coming into our eastern markets. Many samples gave evidence of being worked at high temperatures and not worked enough.

A butter scoring contest for a gold medal was also conducted in which L. C. Cochran of Shelburne, James Proirer of East Berkshire and C. M. Lilley of Marshfield tied for first piace. These three men then scored a second group of samples after which the medal was awarded to Mr. Lilley.

This month no entry was below 80 Der cent fut or above 16 per cent miss.
